Dear Ms. Frii-Hansen,

RE: SUPPORT ON INSTITUTION OF SURVEYORS OF KENYA BID TO HOST FIG WORKING WEEK 2019

The Ministry of Land, Housing and Urban Development in Kenya is charged with the responsibility of providing policy direction and coordinating all matters related to lands, housing and urban development. It is the key contact point for all matters related to land, housing and urban development for Country. It is also the link between the Government and professionals in these sectors. The Ministry has under its regulatory boards that regulate professionals in the sector.

We have learnt with appreciation efforts by the Institution of Surveyors of Kenya (ISK) to host the FIG working week 2019. It is our view that the Working Week will greatly impact on the development of the various professionals represented by ISK and indirectly by FIG. It will also be a great honour for our Country.

In view of the above, this is to express the Government of Kenya's support for the bid by ISK to host the FIG working week. The Government will accord the event both moral and material support to ensure the event is a success. Our Ministry undertakes to coordinate all Government departments and agencies during the preparations as well as actual hosting of the event.

We look forward to having the bifd by ISK receive approval by the necessary FIG organs.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Ms. Frii-Hansen,

SUPPORT ON INSTITUTION OF SURVEYORS OF KENYA BID TO HOST FIG WORKING WEEK 2019

The University of Nairobi is recognized for expertise in training of the professional surveyors in the land, property and built in the Eastern African region. The University of Nairobi (UON) was earlier in the year ranked as the best local and regional university. It was also ranked 9 in Africa out of the 1,326 universities in Africa. We have learnt with appreciation of the on going efforts by the Institution of Surveyors of Kenya (ISK) to host the FIG working week 2019. It is our view that the Working Week will greatly impact on the development of the various professionals represented by ISK and indirectly by FIG. It will also be a great honour for our Training Institution as the premier Institution of choice in the Land Surveying Professions since 1956. The University of Nairobi supports the bid by ISK to host the FIG working week. The University will accord the event both moral and academic resource support in terms paper presentation and faculty participation in the various Working Week thematic groups to ensure the success of the event here in Nairobi, Kenya. We look forward to receive your confirmation that the bid by ISK meets the criteria to be considered as a qualified and a suitable host by the relevant FIG organs.

Yours faithfully,

RE: BIDDING TO HOST FIG WORKING WEEK 2019

The Kenyatta International Convention Centre (KICC) is a State Corporation reestablished through a State Corporation under the Tourism Act 2011 with the primary mandate of promoting and marketing conference tourism both locally and internationally. In line with our mandate, we are looking forward to bid for FIG Working week 2019.

Through the Ministry of East African Affairs, Commerce and Tourism and other key stakeholders, we have hosted highly distinguished International Conferences. Currently Kenya is ranked 2nd in Africa according to International Congress and Conventions Associations (ICCA)2013 statistics. This ranking proves our efforts to ensure our International delegates receive only the best treatment while attending events within the centre.

The experience and dedication that the Kenyatta International Convention Centre has shown in bidding, winning and eventually hosting these conferences goes to show that the same commitment and attention will be given to the FIG working week 2019. We have a professional team with a lot of experience in conferencing, modernized meeting facilities and state of the art audio-visual equipment.

In this respect, we are writing to register our assurance in quality service and ability to host the aforementioned conference.

As has been the tradition, Kenya is making elaborate plans, through the Kenyatta International Convention centre, Kenya Tourist Board and all the Tourism bodies in the Country, to ensure that delegates experience magnificent sight seeing to ultimately have a memorable pre and post- conference experience while in Kenya.

In conclusion, I reiterate that Nairobi invites you to the FIG working week 2019 and free to seek clarification on any aspect of our preparedness to ensure a successful conference.

Yours Sincerely,

Fred Simyu
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Introduction

Composition of ISK

The Institution of Surveyors of Kenya is a professional organization that brings together the disciplines of the surveying profession in Kenya. These are Valuers, Land Surveyors, Geomatic Engineers, Registered Estate Agents, Property Managers, Building Surveyors, Land Administration Managers and Facilities Managers.

Membership to FIG

ISK is in good standing with International Federation of Surveyors. ISK has been represented in almost all the FIG Congresses and working weeks. ISK members have also steered in various commission achieving commendable results during their term.

ISK hosted the International Conference on Spatial Information for Sustainable Development in collaboration with FIG and the United Nations Centre for Human Settlements (Habitat) held from 2nd to 5th October 2001. Key outcome from the conference was the recognition that development and implementation of a National Spatial Data Infrastructure is a prerequisite for promoting Sustainable Development.

ISK also hosted the first FIG African Task Force Workshop on Peri-Urban Settlements: Tools & Techniques for Surveyors to ensure Environmental and Social Resilience in cooperation with Taskforce. The workshop with participants from Africa and beyond was held on 11th and 12th November 2010. in Mombasa, Kenya,

The Institution was privileged to host former FIG Presidents severally. On 18th April 2013, ISK organized for an address by the former FIG President CheeHai Teo at the students Department of Geospatial and Space Technology, School of Engineering at the University of Nairobi on "the Role and Opportunities for Surveyors in the ever Changing Global Arena"

Past & Present Kenya

Kenya has been crossed by the paths of a long and complex history. From the prehistoric records of early man to the present day, Kenya has been a land of unending change, contrasts and diversity.

Kenya celebrated its 50th birthday late last year. Looking back from 1963 when she attained independence, the country has gained milestones economically and achieved great strides in terms of service Provision, Infrastructure and Governance.

Kenya has made great effort in eradicating Poverty, Ignorance and Disease which have been the country's greatest challenge since independence. Education has improved, more people are now literate especially women.

Health care is now easily accessible because of increased facilities and trained medical personnel. Economic growth is driven by people who are now successful entrepreneurs engaging in various businesses.

The Roads, Airports and other infrastructure Network systems have improved greatly since independence.

People used to walk long distances due to lack of means of transport and communication seemed to be a hard task because of outdated technologies. The Kenya today has greatly changed because now we have Airports, modern transport in the roads and communication is advanced, easy and reliable.

Kenya has been crossed by the paths of a long and complex history. From the prehistoric records of early man to the present day, Kenya has been a land of unending change, contrasts and diversity.

Cultural Life & Entertainment

Kenya is a country of diverse cultures; it comprises of 42 ethnic communities with different traditions and customs and different languages and dialects. Despite the differences, they come together as one people speaking the Swahili language which is the National language and with different traditional music and dances that can keep you entertained.

Kenya has a number of popular attractions that include; the Giraffe centre in Nairobi, national park, Fort Jesus in Mombasa, Nairobi National Museums and tremendous topographical diversity, including glaciated mountains with snow-capped peaks, the Rift Valley with its scarps and volcanoes, ancient granitic hills, flat desert landscapes and coral reefs and islets. Kenya has been able to develop its own unique culture by blending the best of many worlds into a strong, singular identity.

Why Host ?

The FIG working week in Kenya will explore the development of a knowledge management concept for the surveying profession which will enhance the status of the surveyors

ISK is a local version of FIG in the region with a capacity to host international conferences. The region is yet to host an FIG working week or a congress despite the advancement of the surveying practice in Kenya. Hosting the FIG working week will achieve the following:-

- Mobilize and spear head the recruitment of more professionals from Africa.
- Strengthen the membership of FIG in Africa,
- Enhancing the surveying profession in the region
- By hosting the working week ISK will enhance the capacity of its members.

The contribution of ISK FIG Working week to surveying in Kenya and the region

The FIG working week in Kenya will explore the development of a knowledge management concept for the surveying profession which will enhance the status of the surveyors.

It will assist countries in the region better integrate surveying in their development agendas such as infrastructure development, mining and agriculture among others.

Climate °C (53.6 °F)

Kenya is mostly cool to warm/hot everyday. The climate along the coast is tropical. This means rainfall and temperatures are high throughout the year. At the coastal city Mombasa, the air heats from cool to hot, almost every day. For many areas of Kenya, the daytime temperature rises about 12 °C (53.6 °F), almost every day.

Culture

Kenya is a diverse country. Notable peoples include the Swahili on the coast, pastoralist communities in the north, and several different communities in the central and western regions. The Maasai culture is well known due to tourism, despite being a minor percentage of the Kenyan population. They are renowned for their elaborate upper body adornment and jewelry. Kenya has an extensive music, television and theatre scene.

World heritage sites

LAMU: The town is the oldest and best-preserved Swahili settlement. It is built in coral stone and mangrove timber, featuring inner courtyards, verandas and elaborate wooden doors.

LAKE TURKANA: As Africa's most saline large lake, Turkana is an excellent laboratory for the study of plant and animal communities. They are a breeding ground for the Nile crocodile, hippopotamus and several venomous snakes. The Koobi Fora deposits are rich in mammalian, molluscan and other fossil remains.

MIJIKENDA SACRED KAYA FOREST: The site consists of 11 separate forests spread across an area 200 kilometres (120 mi) along the Kenyan coast. It contains the remains of fortified villages built during the 16th century by the Mijikenda. They are now considered sacred sites.

Economy

Agriculture is the second largest contributor to Kenya's Gross Domestic Product (GDP), after the service sector. In 2010 agriculture, including forestry and fishing, accounted for about 22 percent of GDP, as well as for 18 percent of wage employment and 42 percent of revenue from exports. The principal cash crops are tea, horticultural produce, and coffee; horticultural produce and tea are the main growth sectors and the two most valuable of all of Kenya's exports.

Sports

Kenya is active in several sports, among them athletics, rallying, rugby, golf and volleyball. The country is known chiefly for its dominance in Middle-distance and long-distance athletics. Kenya has consistently produced Olympic and Commonwealth Games champions in various distance events, especially in 800 m, 1,500 m, 3,000 m steeplechase, 5,000 m, 10,000 m and the marathons. Kenya's best-known athletes includes the four-time women's Boston Marathon winner and two-time world champion Catherine Ndereba, former Marathon world record-holder Paul Tergat, and David Rudisha. Kenya won several medals during the Beijing Olympics, 5 gold, 5 silver and 4 bronze, making it Africa's most successful Nation in the 2008 Olympics. Retired Olympic and Commonwealth Games champion Kipchoge Keino helped usher in Kenya's ongoing distance dynasty in 1970s and was followed by Commonwealth Games Champion Henry Rono's spectacular string of world record performances.

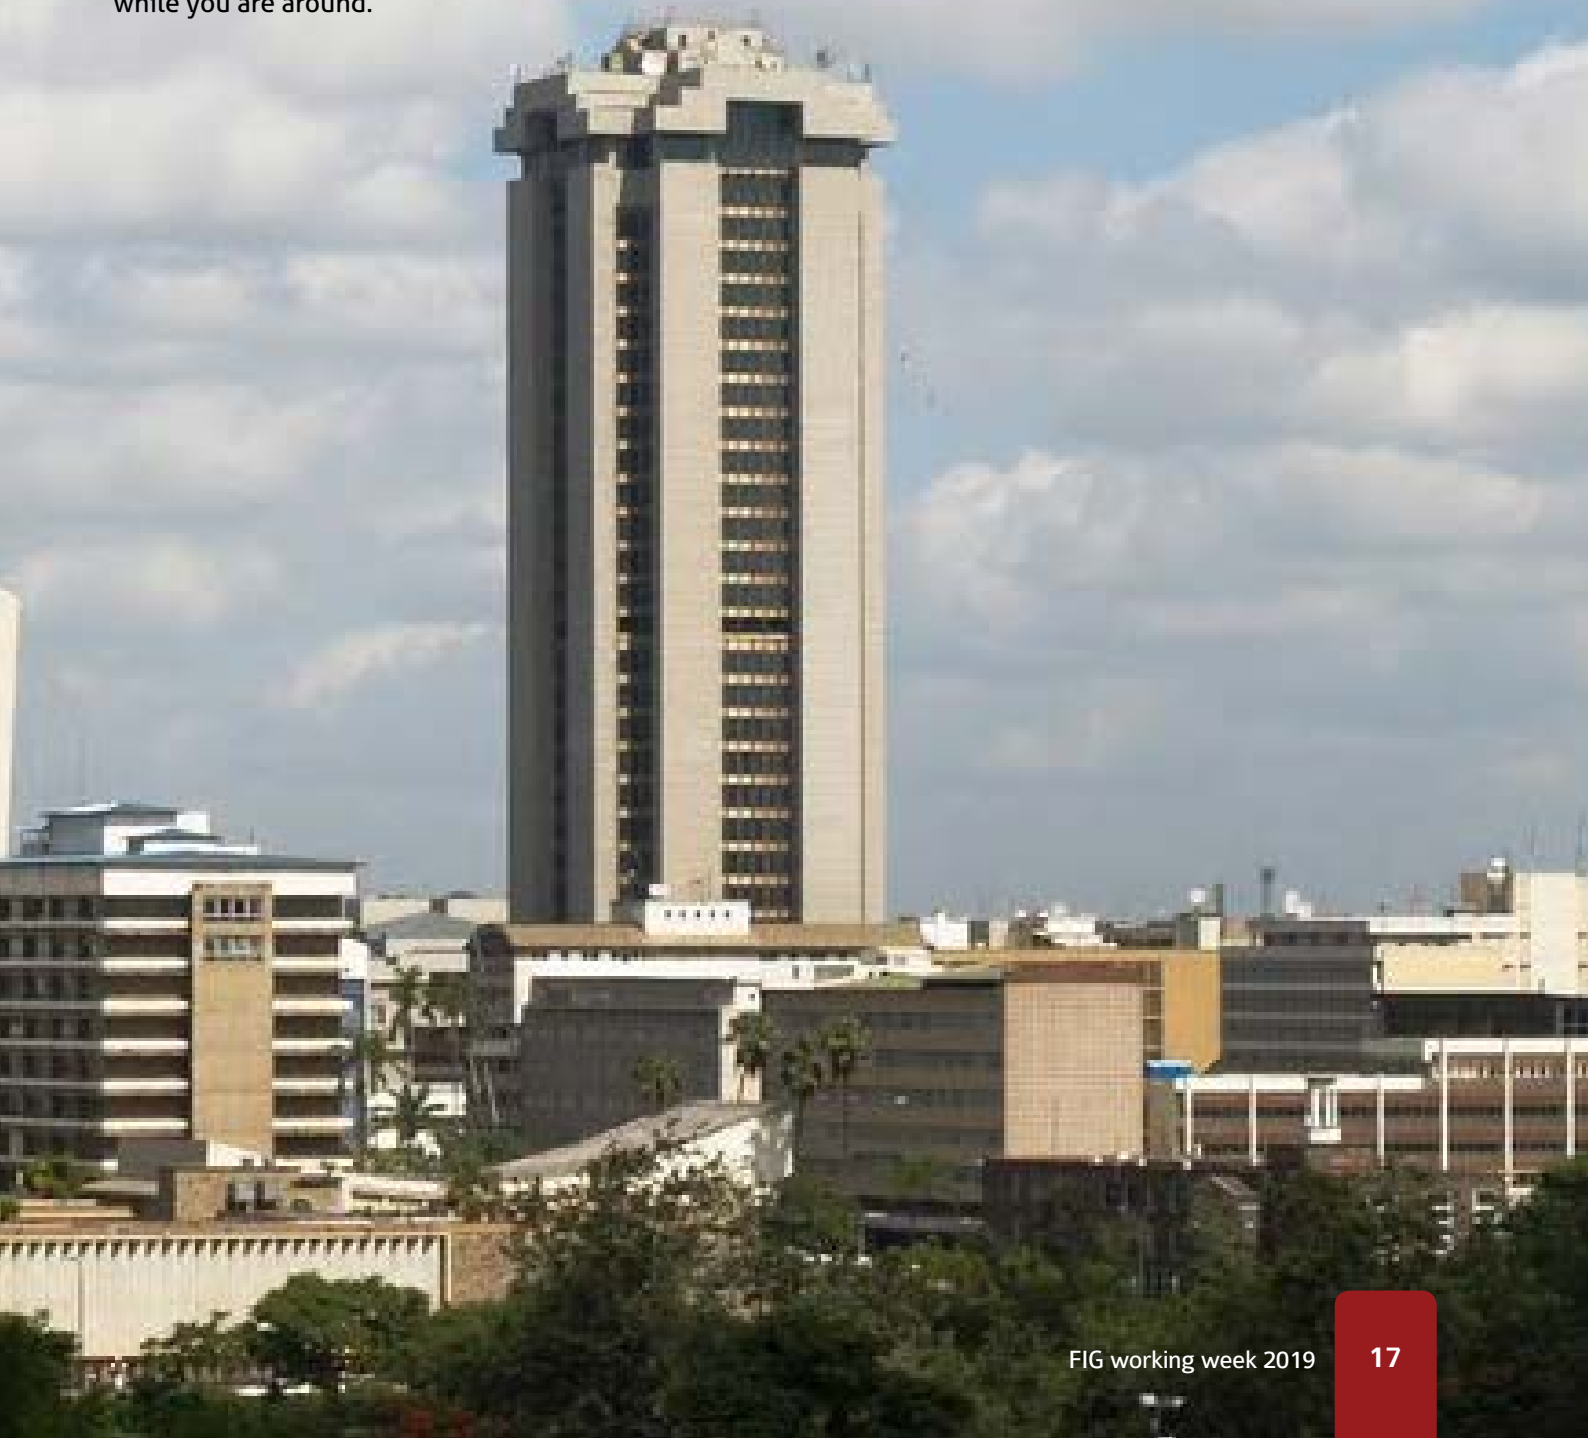

Why meet in Kenya?

Kenya offers a spectrum of locations spread out over the entire country to choose from when it comes to conference venues.

A business trip is often viewed as, well, just that, a business trip but why choose Kenya? Over the past recent years, Kenya has been home and host to some of the biggest conferences and business convergences in Africa from all around the globe. Kenya is a hub for innovations, with room for young minds to come up with, develop and implement their personal ideas and give home to hardworking and visionary entrepreneurs who aim to making the country a one off touristic venue for business travel. The country offers a seamless mix between business and pleasure and because of this Kenya continues to improve its profile and overall image as a Meetings, Incentive travel, Conferences and Exhibition (MICE) destination.

Kenya offers a spectrum of locations spread out over the entire country to choose from when it comes to conference venues. Where you choose to convene is entirely based upon your requirements and what you would like to achieve from your experience as you meet within our borders; simply to say we cut everything in size to meet your needs. We have able conference management teams who are responsible for helping you to familiarize with the country and the ways and places in which you wish to enjoy your conferencing activities while you are around.

Welcome to Nairobi

Nairobi City

Green city in the Sun

The city is one of the prominent cities in Africa politically and economically and home to many multinational companies

Kenya's capital city Nairobi known as the "Green City in the Sun" is the 13th largest city in Africa and fourth largest in infrastructural development and size. The name "Nairobi" comes from the Maasai phrase Enkare Nyirobi, which translates to "the place of cool waters". It is easy to get around and offers a variety of activities to keep anyone busy including shopping, visitor attractions, historical tours, theatre, as well as some of the most exciting restaurants, bars, cafes and night clubs.

Nairobi city is one of the prominent cities in Africa politically and economically. It is home to many multinational companies such as Coca Cola Africa and International organizations, such as the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and the UN Habitat office in Africa.

It is established as a Hub for business and culture. Nairobi has prevailed in the recent years as the top meeting destination within the region and is included in the list of ICCA as top 100 of the most popular meeting destinations worldwide. To a great extent this is due to the highly qualified professionals the city has in various fields of the tourism industry and in particular the meetings industry.

Social Tours within Nairobi

There are several main attraction sites in the city. This is where tourists learn Kenyan history and also get to see different kind of animals.

1. Nairobi National Park

It is the only park in the world within the proximity of a capital city with a wide variety of animals and bird species. The diverse flora of the park makes it possible for many different types of wildlife species to co-exist. Among the animals in the park are the lion, buffalo, cheetah, zebra, giraffe, antelopes and gazelles, and the black rhino, as well as over 400 species of birds. At the entrance of the Nairobi National Park is the Nairobi Safari Walk (formerly the Animal Orphanage) established in 1964 as a refuge for wild animals found abandoned, orphaned or injured throughout Kenya. The orphanage's main objective is to foster and then release the animals back into the wild. However, over the years, it has evolved into a mix between a zoo and an orphanage because some of the animals were not fit to be released into the wild. The Nairobi Safari Walk remains the most visited wildlife facility in Nairobi.

2. Giraffe Centre

It was founded in 1979 and is the creation of the African Fund for Endangered Wildlife, and is where the Rothschild's Giraffe was saved from extinction. Visitors get an opportunity to come into close contact with these tall graceful animals. The visit can be combined with a visit to the neighboring Daisy Rothschild's Giraffe Manor, one of Kenya's best-known guesthouses where one can have a meal next to the Giraffes.

3. Mamba Village and Ostrich Park

The Mamba Village and Ostrich Park are located just up the road from the Bomas of Kenya, off the Lang'ata Road. Mamba is the Kiswahili word for crocodile. It is always thrilling to watch the families of crocodiles beside their shallow pools. Feeding time is quite a spectacle as the attendants walk into the crocodiles' enclosures to toss chunks of meat into their mouths. The Mamba Village has a lounge and restaurant for meals and refreshments. Visitors can also go fishing in the manmade lake. A walk across the bridge over the lake leads to the Ostrich Park where you can watch the tall birds.

The David Sheldrick Animal Orphanage

It is situated on the edge of the Nairobi National Park. Here, dedicated men and women go about the task of rehabilitation and rearing orphaned baby elephants. Daphne Sheldrick founded it in 1977 in honour of her late husband and famous naturalist, David Leslie William Sheldrick MBE. The orphanage is a charitable organization, and is open to visitors daily between 11am and midday.

The Nairobi National Museum

It is the custodian of Kenya's natural and cultural heritage, and thus collects preserves and presents the past and present for today and posterity. It is home to a variety of cultural and natural history exhibits. The displays include prehistoric artifacts discovered by the Leakeys, over 900 stuffed birds and animals, fossils from Lake Turkana, ethnic displays from various Kenyan tribal groups as well as local artistic exhibits.

The Hominid Vault contains a collection of bones and fossils from the pre-historic era in their original form. There are also very illustrative reconstructions of early life.

The Kenya Railway Museum

It is located off Uhuru Highway in the City Centre, represents the historical growth of Kenya through the construction of the railway line from Mombasa to Kisumu. The museum consists of the Main Gallery (collection of smaller items), the Museum Resource Centre (library and photographic section), the Auditorium, and an outdoor collection of steam engines built at the turn of the century. The carriages are full of historical photographs and relics from the time when railway construction workers first arrived in Nairobi.

The Bomas of Kenya

It is located in the outskirts of the city, about one kilometre from the main entrance to the Nairobi National Park. Boma is a Swahili word for village. The Bomas of Kenya exhibits various traditional homesteads of the Kenyan communities complete with their inhabitants. The traditional dances are very captivating and many visitors have been known to join in the dances. Sumptuous traditional dishes are also on offer for those with the appetite.

The Karen Blixen Museum

It is about 20 minutes' drive out of the city centre. Karen Blixen's house has much of its original features still intact. Photographs and original oil portraits painted by Ms Blixen adorn the walls showing glimpses of life on this former coffee plantation.

The Arboretum Forest

It is a beautiful masterpiece of forest tucked away off State House Road and very near the City Centre. It is possible to get there on foot (it takes about 30 minutes comfortable walking from the City Centre), or by taxi. The forest has a stunning collection of trees, each of which has a rich history, ranging from the exotic to the indigenous. The Arboretum is organised in such a way that it has promenades for viewing the trees, resting places to relax, and well manicured grass for picnics and a lazy lay about. This is, above all, a place of peace, serenity and tranquility, away from the hustle and bustle of city life. Many couples use it as a romantic place to spend time alone. When planning to stay there for long hours, it is advisable to carry packed food.

There are also several public parks in Nairobi for those relaxing moments, namely:

- Uhuru Park located between the Central Business District and Capitol Hill
- City Park located on the edge of the indigenous Karura Forest.
- Uhuru Gardens and Heroes Square located on Lang'ata Road.
- Memorial Park, built in honour of those who lost their lives in the 7th August 1998 terrorist bombing.

Technical tours Programme

The delegates attending the FIG working week will have a programme for technical tours relevant to all the FIG Commissions. This will include:

- The Great Rift Valley with varying features
- Kibera slums one of the biggest informal urban settlements in Africa
- Lake Bogoria is a saline, alkaline lake that lies in a volcanic region with hot springs
- The Olkaria Area renowned source of geothermal clean electrical power generation
- Various large scale farms supplying the World with tea, coffee and horticulture

Social Programme

The Social tours programme will be expansive and will include visits to:

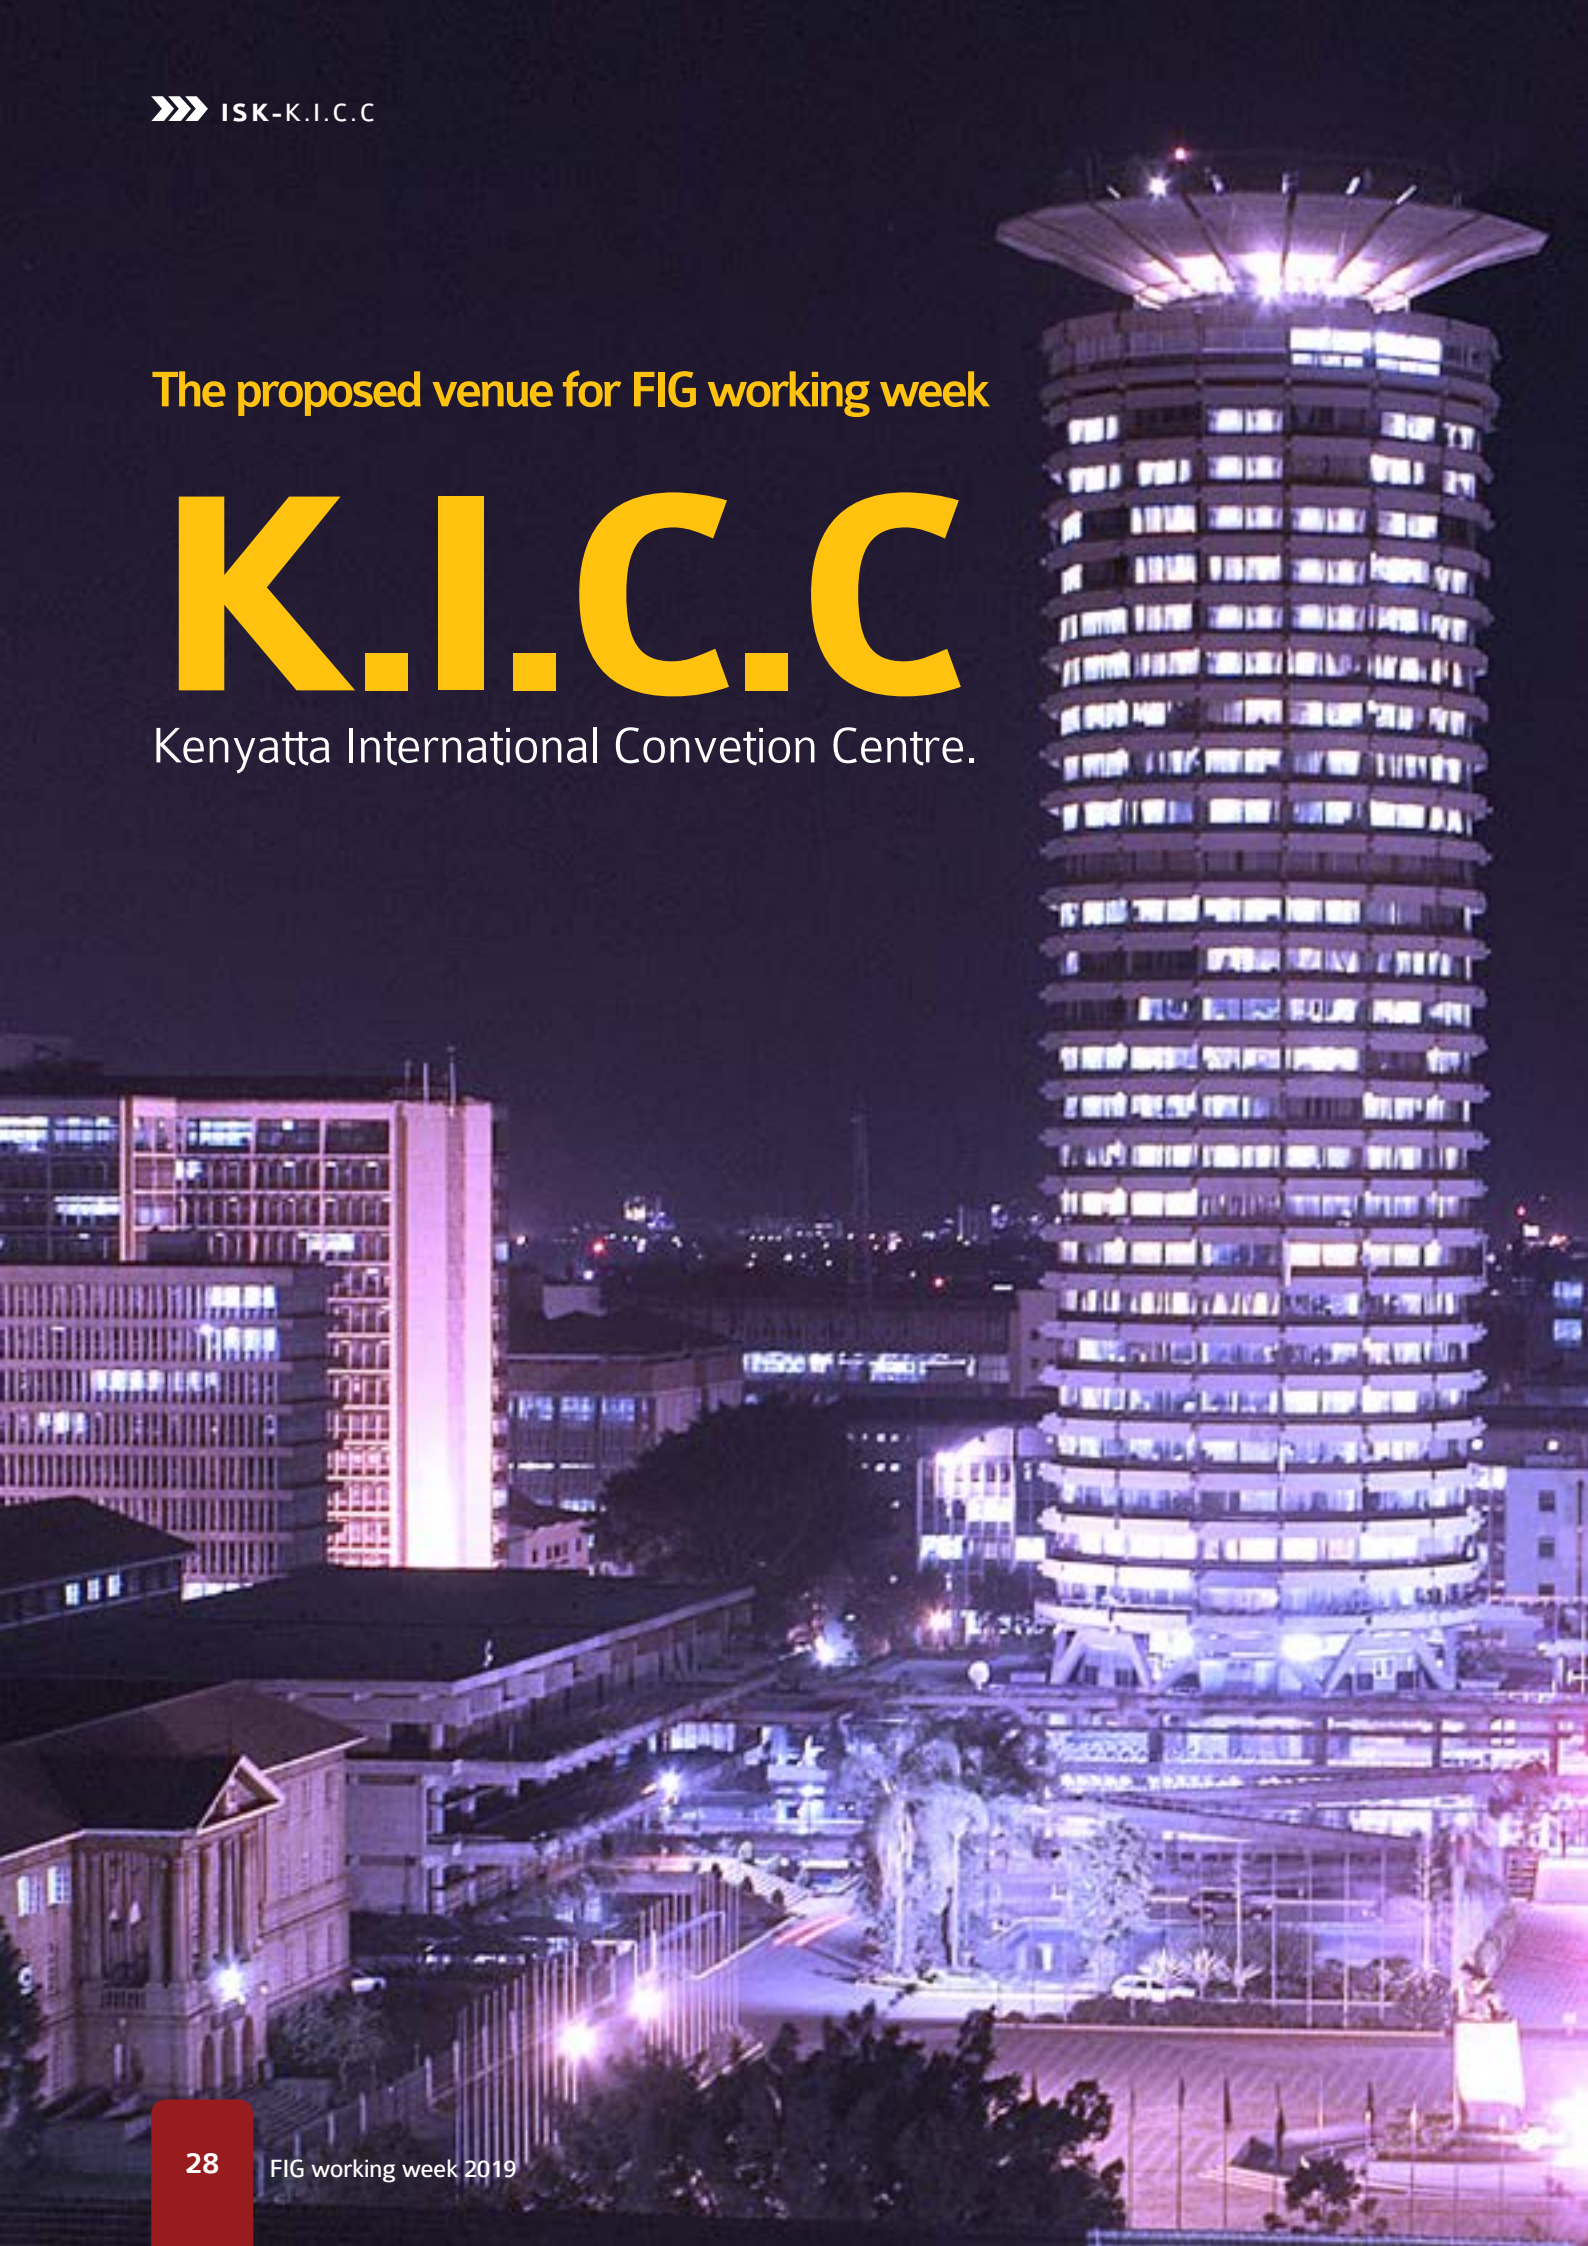

- The Nairobi National Park an unique wildlife sanctuary only 7 kms from the Nairobi bustling City Centre
- Museums including National museum of Kenya, the current Blixen museum, The Carnivore Restaurant, the ultimate 'Beast of a Feast' A variety of game meat including ostrich, crocodile and camel
- Specialized animal parks:- such as Snake Park, Mamba village and Ostrich park.
- Bomas of Kenya offering wide displays traditional villages belonging to the several Kenyan tribes
- Mount Kenya The only snow capped Mountain at close to equator,
- Maasai Mara National Reserve for the Wild beast migration one of the natural wonders of the world
- Wide variety of game parks and game reserves including Nakuru National park, Amboseli national park, Tsavo national park among others
- Arboretum forest

The proposed venue for FIG working week

K.I.C.C

Kenyatta International Convention Centre.

An Overview

The Kenyatta International Convention Center – KICC has been and still is an icon and landmark for Kenya since completion. This has distinguished it as a premiere meeting venue throughout the region. KICC boasts of being the largest facility in the meetings industry in the region and has held quite a number of regional and international conferences like the World Bank Conference in 1973, Inter-parliamentary Union summit in 2008, other UN based conferences, 8th African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA), 7th Global Conference on health, the 5th Pan african Malaria conference, Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) Congress & The 2010 International Federation of Biomedical Laboratory Scientists (IFBLS) Congress among others.

Located at the heart of the central business district of Kenya’s Capital, KICC boasts of its proximity and easy accessibility to and from all major five-star hotels, most of which are ten minutes walk away and five minutes away by car. KICC has the capacity to hold both large and small events, both indoors and outdoors. The facility has excellent rooms, with good ambiance, clean and air conditioned.

Internet / WI - FI

The network which is supported on a fibre optic backbone together with the necessary infrastructure has been laid across the entire KICC premises.

Outdoor Events

Bigger Space for Exhibitions and Events

Outdoor space consists of three main areas: The Courtyard, raised tree area and the COMESA grounds. KICC’s Courtyard is a vast outdoor facility that can cater for many set-ups- owing to its sheer size. It enjoys plenty of paved area and manicured gardens and lawns.

Fronting City Hall way, KICC has a paved 7,056 square meter courtyard surrounding the Jomo

Kenyatta Statue and is ideal for outdoor events, product launches, family fun days, exhibitions and music extravaganzas.

The courtyard was designed initially as a rest-bite for those attending conferences. It is surrounded by water fountains and the numerous poles and balconies are fashioned to host promotional identities.

KICC Viewtower

Besides viewing, it has become a haven for journalists, artists and performers who delight in the perfect photography and videoing angles it presents.

Your Vantage point in Nairobi City

On 29th floor is the highest a viewpoint open to the public in Nairobi City. From here, visitors are able to enjoy a panoramic view of the capital and pin point specific landmarks visible from here.

Helipad

A breathtaking experience

The Helipad, the only one in the city located on the top tier of the tower, has become a popular area of focus for both local and international visitors to the Centre. From this vantage point one is able to see the entire City of Nairobi and its surroundings, only then can one appreciate the beauty and complex pattern that it embodies.

Besides viewing, it has become a haven for journalists, artists and performers who delight in the perfect photography and videoing angles it presents. A number of local videos run on our local televisions and internationally aired documentaries have actually been shot atop the tower.

Security & Safety

Conference tourism is very sensitive to security matters. KICC has therefore put in place firm measures to ensure delegates and visitors safety while in and around the centre.

The Center is centrally and strategically located in the Central Business District and is surrounded by highly secured institutions like the Kenya Police Headquarters, High Court of Kenya, Office of the President, among other very highly secured buildings. This alone is a guarantee of security at the Centre.

Inside the centre, KICC enjoys a fully equipped police station to beef up the security of delegates. The Centre is also guarded by internationally acclaimed security firm known as the Bob Morgan (BM). KICC prides itself in having one of the latest ultra modern electronic security systems that covers all meeting rooms, entrances main gates and all the walking paths in the building.

The Centre has strong walls and several gates with barriers all the way from the main gates to the entrance of the building. After the security check at the main gate, screening of delegates and visitors is done at the entrance to the building. KICC does not only stress on security, it also ensures safety of every individual in the Centre. The centre therefore has intruder alarm systems that include panic buttons to alert people in case of fire or any emergencies. Fire fighting equipment have also been placed at all corners of the building.

During most of our events especially major ones like AGOA, 7th global conference on health, which happened recently, other security stake holders including the Government of Kenya come in to ensure security is beefed up all the way from the airport when delegates arrive into the country. A security committee including Kenya police, the host KICC, Immigration department, Airport security, Protocol security, Emergency response organizations, and the tourist police provide security oversight.

The committee conducts a risk assessment on crowd risk, fire, catering, noise and cash in transit if any. However for most of these functions, registration of delegates is done online way in advance and identification badges given to them either in advance or on the opening day.

This therefore means that by the day of the event, only the registered and vetted delegates are allowed into the centre minimizing chances of people with ill motives accessing the building.

Medical Emergencies

During the period of the 10th WTO Ministerial Conference, KICC shall make arrangements with qualified medical personnel to provide emergency medical services as well as two fully equipped stand-by ambulances

Fire Safety

The fire system is also well equipped in that in the event of a fire, delegates can be assured of their safety. Instructions on precautionary measures are placed at all strategic areas of the venue, where delegates and other visitors can get information on what to do in the event of a peril. Fire extinguishing equipment are placed in every meeting room and hall ways of the facility and the fire exits are on every floor in the entire building. Delegates can thereby be at ease as their security shall not be compromised as far as their Stay at the center is concerned.

The fire assembly point are strategically placed at the compound where every person entering the facility can see it and if an alarm is sounded, they can easily access these points.

Delegates need not to worry about their safety in the event of fire as fire drills are usually conducted after every three months as a precautionary measure.

Restaurants

The Tamarind Group

This group of hotels includes The carnivore, Tamambo bar and grill, tamarind in Nairobi, Tamarind Mombasa, Tamambo Tapas bar, Tamambo village and Tamarind dhow.

Tamarind Nairobi

The Nairobi Tamarind is situated in National Bank Building, Haile Selassie Avenue, close to the Central Bank of Kenya. It has an ambience of elegance and calm in addition to delicious food and superb service. As Nairobi's leading seafood restaurant we fly in, fresh from the coast daily, giant prawns, sweet young crabs, juicy lobsters, squid, octopus and oysters. If seafood is not your choice, we offer the finest venison, steak and poultry in the country.

Carnivore

The Carnivore is considered 'Africa's Greatest Eating Experience'. Every type of meat imaginable including a selection of exotic meat is roasted over charcoal and carved at your table. The Carnivore is also home of the Simba Saloon, a delicious a la carte restaurant by day and Nairobi's most popular nightclub. The informal indoor/outdoor atmosphere, exceptional snacks and the pulsating rhythms of Africa combine to ensure an exciting ambience.

Tamambo

Tamambo is a modern African brasserie incorporating warm earthy colours, stylish wood finishes and eclectic African artifacts. The trendy bar at Tamambo has become a popular after work meeting place. Tamambo Tapas Bar has opened at The Village Market. The Tapas Bar is available for exclusive hire as a function venue. It can accommodate 150 people for a cocktail party or 100 for a sit down dinner.

Explore Nairobi

Tourism

Nairobi is home to many tour operators and travel agents. Excursions can be arranged to all parts of the city and beyond. A Tour of Nairobi will normally include visits to the Nairobi National Park, home to large herds of Zebra, Wildebeest, Buffalo, Giraffes, Lions, Cheetahs, Hippos, Rhinos and over 400 species of birds. Sheldrick Elephant Orphanage, close to the Nairobi National Park takes in elephant calves and rhinos from all over Kenya orphaned by poaching. The Giraffe Centre, in Lang'ata breeds the endangered Rothschild Giraffe and has conservation/education programs for visitors. The Mamba Village park is home to ostriches and crocodiles. Visitors get the chance to interact directly with crocodiles and even hold baby crocs guided by experienced staff. The US Embassy Memorial Site, in the City Centre is a monument to the victims of the tragic Nairobi Embassy Bombings in 1998. Today, the serene park with galleries and inscriptions of the victims' names is a place where visitors come to learn about Kenya, its history and culture.

Parks and recreation

Nairobi offers some beautiful getaways from the busy city life. The Uhuru Park ("Nairobi's Central Park") is a vibrant park that echoes the city's old slogan 'The Green City in the Sun'. Nairobi residents, tourists, students and business people from all walks of life visit the park everyday for picnics, study, rest and a host of other activities. The serene park is a great place to take a breath, read a book or catch up with family and friends. The park's major attractions include: Boat Riding, amusement park, picnic site, historical Monuments, assembly ground for meetings, skateboarding Spot, children's Park (Road Safety Academy).

Leading Banks

Nairobi is the Financial Capital of the East and Central Africa Region. Leading local and international banks have set operations in the city creating a vibrant and competitive financial eco system that is ever evolving. Kenya's largest Bank, Equity Bank, based in Nairobi County has received international acclaim for innovative banking solutions while another local brand Central Bank of Africa is changing the banking landscape through a fast growing mobile banking and credit system in partnership with Safaricom; Kenya's largest Telecommunications Company. Some of the leading international banks in the city include Barclays Bank, Standard Chartered Bank, Citi bank and Bank of Africa.

Night Life

Nairobi has a vibrant and growing social scene with a wide variety of clubs, pubs and sports bars catering for a wide variety of clientele. The world famous Carnivore Restaurant is one of the most popular entertainment spots offering game meat and live entertainment. The city has seen a rise in the number of new entertainment spots popping up in different parts of the city as a growing middle class feeds the demand for entertainment. The most popular entertainment districts in Nairobi are Westlands, Moi Avenue, Langata rd, Ngong rd and Tom Mboya Street. Nairobi's entertainment spots are open all week but are most active on Friday's and Saturday's when Nairobians seek to get a break from the busy week.

Shopping

Downtown Nairobi, once the center for government, institutional and private office space is now a bustling shopping district where local and international brands compete for Kenya's growing middle class. The streets are lined with shops, supermarkets, fast food restaurants and stalls where you can buy anything from high end electronics to low cost clothing. Nairobi's shopping district is a diverse ecosystem that caters for every budget and every lifestyle. Grand shopping malls are now a common site in residential neighborhoods in Nairobi providing access to many local and international brands, products and services.

Transportation

Highways

Nairobi is connected by tarmacked roads to Kenya’s other major urban centers, such as Mombasa, Kisumu, Nakuru, Nyeri, Eldoret, Garissa, Machakos, Kisii, and Kericho among others. The City is currently undergoing major road constructions to upgrade its infrastructural network. Most roads are well lit and surfaced with adequate signage. Bypasses are currently under construction and seek to ease congestion in Nairobi’s downtown area and the surrounding suburbs.

Airports

Nairobi is served primarily by Jomo Kenyatta International Airport. It is the largest airport in East and Central Africa. The airport is situated 17 km (10 miles) from Nairobi’s Central Business District. The airport directly serves intercontinental passengers from Europe, the Middle East and Asia as well as internal flights. In addition to Kenyan Airlines, Jomo Kenyatta International Airport is serviced by a large number of international airlines. Wilson Airport is a smaller and busy general aviation airport located in a south-central suburb of Nairobi West. It handles small aircraft that generally operate within Kenya, although some offer services to other East, Central and North-east African destinations.

Railway service

Nairobi was founded as a railway town, and the main headquarters of Kenya Railways is still situated at Nairobi Railway Station, which is located near the city centre. The line runs through Nairobi, from Mombasa to Kampala. Its main use is freight traffic, but regular nightly passenger trains connect Nairobi to Mombasa and Kisumu. A number of morning and evening commuter trains connect the center with the suburbs.

Public transport (matatus & buses)

A matatu (public minibuses/commuter buses) is typically used for traveling between downtown Nairobi and the suburbs. They are the most common form of public transport and provide a cheap way of getting around Nairobi.

»» AIR

Kenya has dozens of airports spread across the country and travelling between destinations by plane is both safe and fast. Several airlines offer services with regular connections from Nairobi to Mombasa, Kisumu, Malindi, Lamu as well as the main national parks and reserves, such as Masai Mara and Amboseli.

»» SEA

Ferries run along the coast between the major cities of Mombasa, Malindi and Lamu and you can even hire traditional Kenyan sailing boats, known as dhows, in these cities. Boats can be booked at travel agencies.
